

Great Western Opens Dec. 20

One of the most unusual structures ever used to house a financial institution will be erected Dec. 20 by Great Western Savings and Loan Association, 5301 Lakewood Blvd., according to Emil Seliga, executive vice president.

The structure, known as an "aero-dome," is made of a plastic material and is supported by air.

"It works somewhat like a balloon" Seliga says, "it has been used by the military and industrial concerns as a warehouse, but this is the first time that it has been approved in Southern California for use as a customer facility."

The "aero-dome" will be temporary headquarters for Great Western's Lakewood office. The unique structure will be used until the permanent office is constructed on the site in 1962.

When the permanent office is opened it will mark the second phase of Great Western's expansion and relocation program which completes its initial phase with the opening Dec. 18 of the relocated Gardena office, 2501 W. Rosecrans Ave.
